Lençóis Maranhenses

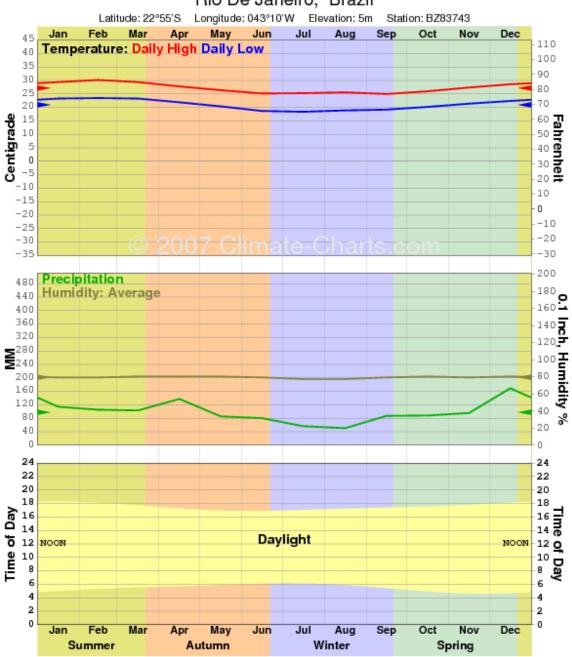

Best time to visit is May to September, after the rains, and before the lakes dry out.

Costa Verde – São Paulo to Rio coast line including Mamanguá and Paraty

Costa Verde climate is tropical with constantly warm temperatures. June to September- cooler and drier.

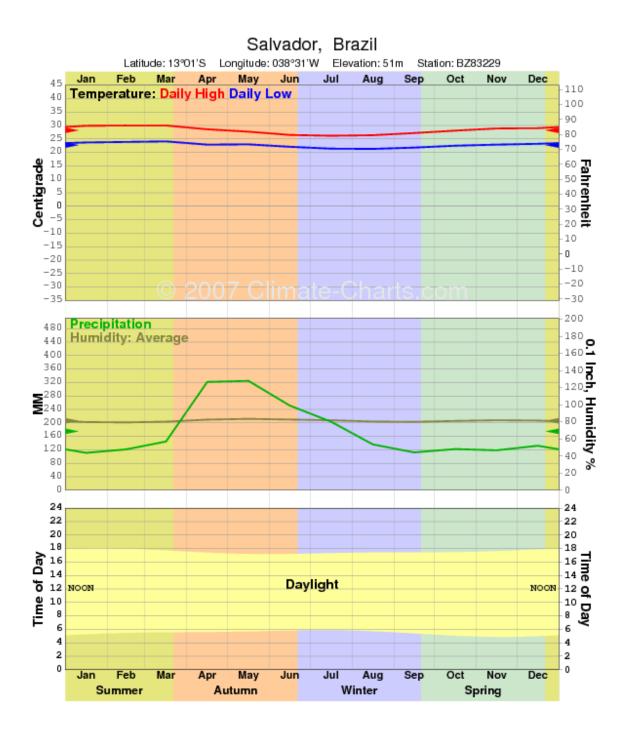

November to April - hotter and wetter, but sea breezes temper the heat effectively. From mid December to Carnaval is the busier time due to national holidays for students.

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil

Salvador

Low Season – May to September (mild temperatures). Mid Season – April and October (warm and dry along the coast). High Season – December to March (hot and humid).

Bahia Coast

Raining season - April to June. Best time - mid-December and March

Fernando de Noronha

Dry season - August to January. Raining season - March, April and May. Surfing - January and February Diving - September and October.

Jericoacoara

Dry season - June to January (has low levels of precipitation and humidity and is considered the best time to visit the region).

Rainy - January to June.

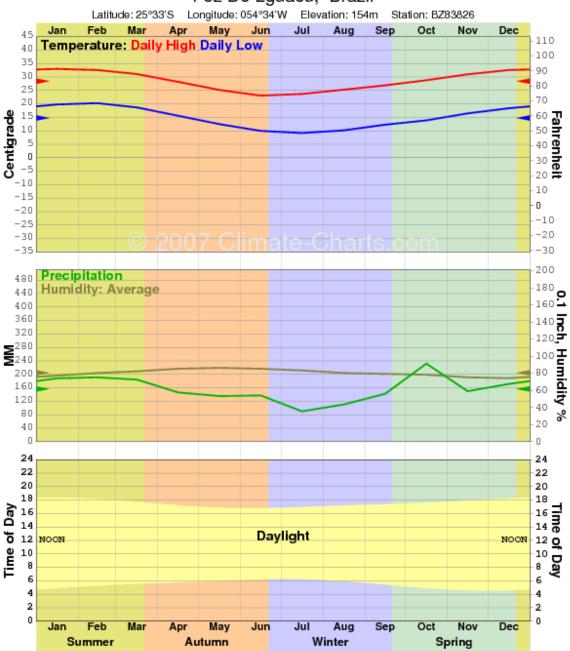

Kite surfing - July to November.

Foz do Iguaçú

Summer typically, the Falls are their peak (due to rain) which increases falls volume, but this period has also disadvantages: it's the most crowded period, and the rain may also cause trails and activities to be closed.

Winter (JUN, JUL, AGO) may be more advantageous, about pleasant temperature, lower prices, less people and a lower probability of a troubling rainy day.

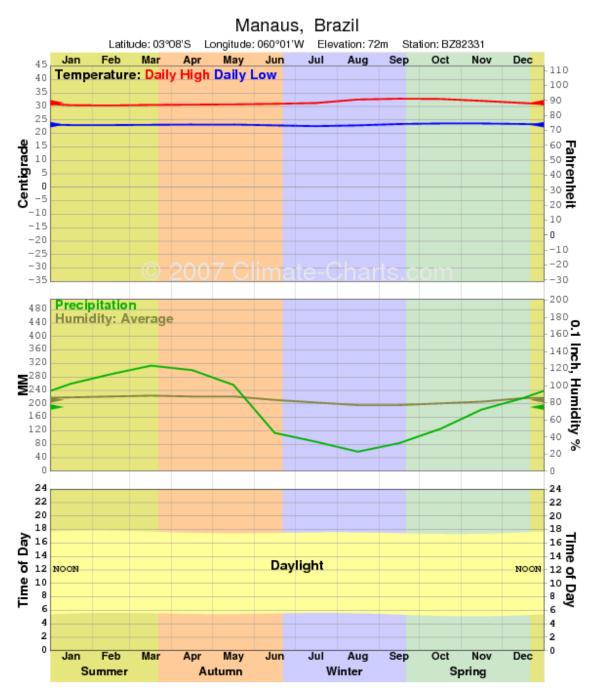

Foz Do Lguacu, Brazil

Amazon:

Dry Season - July to December (intense heat and humidity but relatively limited precipitation).

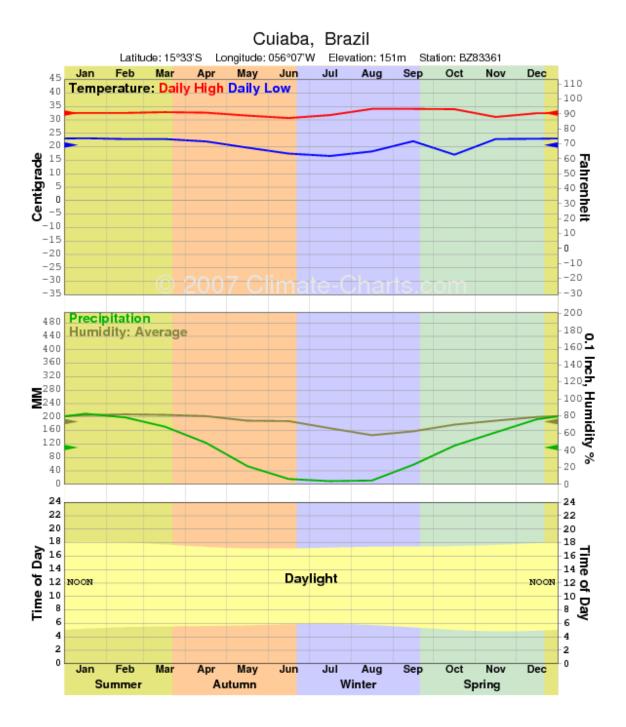

Wet Season - January to June (heavy rains contribute to high water levels and flooded forests. Provides better boat access to wetlands and temporarily flooded forests).

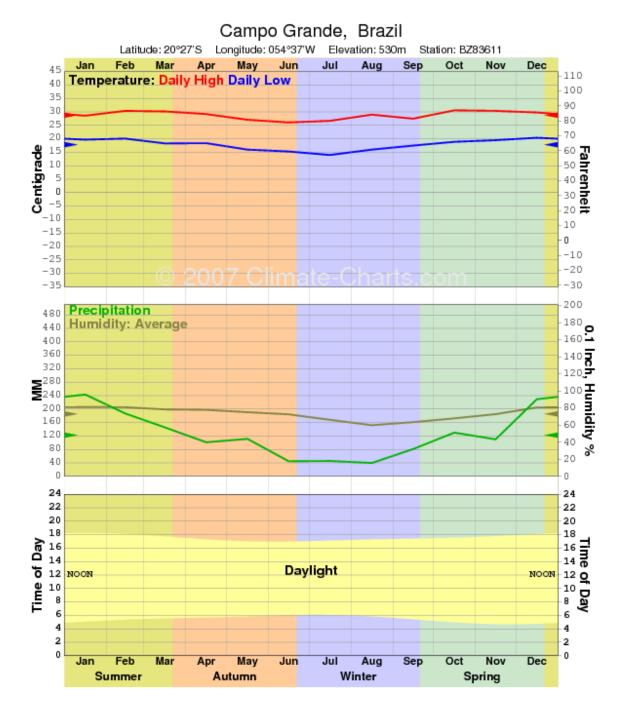

Pantanal:

Rainy season - November to March (this is the nesting time for many species of birds, and the period when many mammals retreat and seek refuge in the high terraces of the plains).

Dry season - April to September (best time to see more mammals and birding's).

Chapada Diamantina:

Rainy season - November to March

Dry season - August to October, with April to July being in-between.

